

Level: Undergraduate Vocational Studies in Optometry
Course title: English language 2
Status: elective
ECTS: 6
Requirements: English language 1
Learning objectives Mastering the language skills needed for the job, achieving a successful level of written and oral communication in English and obtaining the basics for further advancement in profession.
Learning outcomes General: communication competence and correct interpretation of information from tables, graphs and diagrams, introduction to basic characteristics of a business letter, writing a motivational letter. Specific: vocational terminology, fast and precise information exchange in English for specific/vocational purposes, use of professional and technical manuals, efficient use of dictionaries, vocabulary (diagnosis, clinical research and primary care), understanding professional /vocational texts, writing short reports.
Syllabus Theoretical instruction <ol style="list-style-type: none"> 1. Spoken language for special/vocational purposes: description and comparison, equivalence, oral presentations, business and professional communication. 2. Written communication for special purposes: instruction manuals, tables, graphs, rapports and business letters. 3. Characteristics of discourse for special/vocational purposes: word formation, prefixes, suffixes, modals, phrasal verbs, passive and infinitive constructions, complex sentences and conjunctions. Practical instruction Practice of communication skills (oral and written) on professional topics, development of reading strategies, grammar comprehension. Interactive approach: discussions, role-plays, individual work, group work, audiovisuals, written and oral assignments.
Weekly teaching load				Other:-
Lectures: 3	Exercises: 2	Other forms of teaching:0	Student research:-	