

Level: bachelor
Course title: Environment and sustainable development
Status: elective
ECTS: 7
Requirements: none
Learning objectives To obtain the basic knowledge and awareness of sustainable development, with emphasis on the environment, which includes storage and mineral deposits and other natural resources, clean technology, preventing degradation of soil, water and air. Understanding the global environmental problems and their relation to human activities.
Learning outcomes Obtaining the necessary knowledge about the global environmental problems, current status and trends of environmental quality changes.
Syllabus Theoretical instruction Introduction to the rational use of resources, avoiding the use of toxic and hazardous substances, efficient use of renewable energy sources, sustainable waste management and action plans, and national policies for sustainable development. Practical instruction Practical course follows the theoretical
Weekly teaching load				Other:
Lectures: 2(30)	Exercises: 2(30)	Other forms of teaching: 2 (30)	Student research:	