

Level: bachelor
Course title: Economic-legal aspects of environmental protection
Status: elective
ECTS: 5
Requirements: none
Learning objectives Introduction to the legal provisions related to the environment, as well as the provisions of the relevant international agreements.
Learning outcomes Learn about the concepts of law, legal norms, and the notion of ecological law as a synthetic branch of law.
Syllabus Theoretical instruction Explain the principles of ecological law. Analysis of constitutional provisions, and appropriate laws and regulations for environmental protection, as well as autonomous and general documents. Civil law, criminal law and administrative environment. Special attention is paid to international agreements in this field. The acquisition of basic knowledge of the concept and types of international agreements, as well as the applicability of these agreements in our legal system. How environmental law relates to other branches of law. Comparative legal review of legislation. The concept of organizational structure and national and international institutions dealing with the protection of the environment. Economic instruments for environmental protection.
Weekly teaching load				Other:
Lectures: 3 (45)	Exercises:	Other forms of teaching:	Student research:	