

Level: master
Course title: Fieldwork (MT116)
Status: obligatory
ECTS: 3
Requirements: none
Learning objectives Introducing students to the basics of physical and social attractiveness for development of tourism abroad. Particular objective is to introduce the current situation and organization of tourism and hunting tourism activity in a particular foreign country. The main task of the fieldwork is to familiarize students with the essence of interrelatedness of attractive, material and organizational factors and types of tourism developments, as well as the extent to which the optimal features of such connections have been realized.
Learning outcomes Students have knowledge of fundamental natural and social tourist attractions, as well as of some examples of tourism and hunting tourism economic activity of a certain foreign country.
Syllabus Theoretical instruction Practical instruction Specific complex of natural, anthropogenic values and material resources which create a tourist site. Field practice at master studies enable students to learn about the specifics of tourist sites such as capital cities, coastal, mountain, spa, climatic and other tourist places.
Weekly teaching load				Other:
Lectures:	Exercises:	Other forms of teaching: 3	Student research:	