

Level: master
Course title: The ethics of hunting tourism (MT125)
Status: obligatory for module of Hunting Tourism
ECTS: 6
Requirements: None
Learning objectives Students should create the value systems of modern wildlife management and sustainable hunting tourism, be able to apply them to the practice of hunting - tourism business operating in accordance with their corresponding ethical norms.
Learning outcomes Obtained relevant value orientations in sustainable hunting and hunting tourism, acquired positive attitudes towards wildlife protection and conservation of biodiversity; Qualification for scientific consideration of phenomena in the field of hunting and hunting tourism ethics.
Syllabus Theoretical instruction Basic concepts of Ethics; Notion of ethics of hunting tourism, concept of sustainable development and the conservation of biodiversity as a valuable basis of ethics of hunting tourism; Ideal for animal welfare - the regulatory value of hunting tourism ethics, philosophical, theological and legal aspects of the relationship of man to animals; Hunting Ethics, Business Ethics of hunting tourism. Practical instruction Cooperation through visits to institutions and organizations for the protection of nature and wildlife; work on the popularization of hunting ethics.
Weekly teaching load				Other:
Lectures: 2	Exercises: 2	Other forms of teaching:	Student research:	