

Study program: Bachelor with Honours in Tourism
The type and level of study: Bachelor
Course Title: Fieldwork 2t (T216)
Teacher: Lukrecija L. Djeri, PhD
Status of course: Obligatory for module of Tourism
ECTS: 3
Requirements: none
Learning objectives To introduce students to the basic physical and social attractions for tourism development in Serbia. The specific objective is to introduce the current economic situation in the tourism industry.
Learning outcomes Students should gain the basic knowledge of the natural and social tourist attractions. Students should meet representatives of the tourism economic activity in Serbia, and preferably work together with them during and after their studies.
Syllabus Specific complex of natural, anthropogenic values and material bases form an appropriate tourist spot. This fieldwork provides students with the specificities of particular tourist sites such as the capitals of the republic and province, coastal, mountain, spa and climatic and other tourist places. Teaching methods used is the visit to important natural and social tourist attraction in the territory of the Republic of Serbia (outside of Vojvodina). Getting to know some of the representatives of the tourism sector in Serbia. In addition to the field visits, there is the possibility of organizing a stationary field visit to the selected sites of great importance for tourist activities in Serbia.
Literature Appropriate literature related to the selected territory or enterprise is used for the paper preparation.
Weekly teaching load				Other classes: -
Lectures: -	Exercises: -	Other forms of teaching: 3	Research study: 0
Methods of teaching - Field observations - A practical method of working tasks in tourism enterprises - Direct observation of geographic reality, research interview, teaching interview, presentation, explanation, description.
Knowledge score (maximum points 100)
Pre obligations		points
activities during the teaching methods		0-100		